Coalesse® Enhances X-Stack Statement of Line

Tablet arm now available on the stackable classroom-style seating collection

San Francisco, CA - Coalesse, the leader in premium live/work furnishings, is pleased to introduce a tablet arm option to the award-winning X-Stack seating collection. The new tablet offers a generous writing surface that can accommodate laptops and large textbooks. The tablet has a simple flip-top feature to allow for stacking and ease of entry/exit.

X-Stack is Coalesse's 2006 NeoCon Gold-winning seating collection. Designed by John Kaloustian, a specialist in high-performance sporting equipment, X-Stack enjoys the perfect blend of exceptional comfort, ultra toughness and low maintenance. It's made with co-molded thermoplastic polyurethane (TPU), an ingenious polymer that is soft, durable, easy to clean and resistant to stains. The chair's strong glass-filled nylon body has a glossy, hard-wearing finish that will hold its integrity over years of constant use.

X-Stack also boasts a sustainable design; it is 100% recyclable and made with 21% recycled content. This lightweight collection stacks four high to conserve space.

The X-Stack with the new tablet option is available in an arm and armless model with casters or glides and can stack 5-high without arms and 4-high with arms. It comes in four sophisticated colors and two frame colors. With this new enhancement option, X-Stack continues to be the ideal seating solution for engaging in training/classrooms, reception, and in-between spaces.
